2015 was a transitional and positive year for the Worcester Public Library. Tracey Leger-Hornby ably ran the organization as acting head librarian while we conducted a nationwide search for a permanent head librarian. A Search Committee of Jim Kersten, Judy Finkel, Dianne Bruce, Collins Nwamah, Deborah Packard, Carolyn Noah, Tony Economu, Christine Weinrobe and Robert Sorrenti worked with the search firm of Bradbury Associates/Gossage Sager Associates. In February, the Search Committee recommended two final candidates and the Board of Directors selected Geoffrey Dickinson, acting director of the New Bedford Free Public Library, for the position. Subsequently, Mr. Dickinson appointed acting assistant head librarian Sulma Rupert Silva permanently to that position. As the year progressed, we felt comfortable that that our management duo is adeptly administering our organization.

The Worcester City Council appointed two new board members who began their terms in January 2015. Brittany Durgin and Carolyn Noah were elected for six-year terms. Subsequently, Anne O'Connor was elected to fill a five-year opening on the board created by the resignation of Brittany Durgin and Toby Pedone was elected to fill a two-year opening created by the resignation of James Kersten.

In April, the WPL Board held a retreat. Gayle Gifford of Cause & Effect updated us on governance trends and led us through a self-assessment process.

The Building and Grounds Committee had an active year. In response to a recommendation from City Manager Augustus that Library open to the Common, the board commissioned the architectural design firm of DiMella Shaffer to explore options for adding a new front entrance. We continue to work on design plans for a potential project. We were delighted that new carpet, lighting and security cameras were installed in portions of the main branch. We are working on capital improvements for the Francis Perkins Branch.

Our Administration Committee worked on guidelines for Head Librarian review and also multiple administrative and policy issues.

The Community Services Committee launched an effort to positively work with social service providers to address issues that confront some of our patrons and often negatively impact the library. That effort will continue in 2016.

The Finance Committee met with our investment firm, Bartholomew and Company to review our investment strategy. The committee researched the conditions and requirements of our individual foundation funds in order to be sure that we are in compliance with donor guidelines. The Committee recommended to the board allocations from the funds during the year.

Revised December, 2015
Head Librarian Report

December 2015

The following highlights have been my area of focus in the month of December:

December 14: TDI Theatre District Kickoff meeting

December 23: Meeting with the City Manager

Ongoing Projects

The City Manager has requested a presentation of the Master Plan for himself and others to build support for the project. He recognizes the significant cost of this project and is interested in bringing in members from select Departments to view the presentation and discuss. He had considered a full public presentation, but decided against it. Currently the presentation is scheduled for February 3rd at City Hall.

One City One Library will have the fourth branch at Burncoat Prep within a month. The acceptance of the School Board of the gift from the Worcester Public Library Foundation of the construction costs of the branches allowed Cardinal Construction to move ahead with the permitting process. Work began on the building December 28th. Mike Reno is working with Charter Communications and C/WMARS for the installation and setup of the network connections. I have reached out to Steve Corridori to work with the shelving rep to map the space to determine if more shelving will fit.

The carpeting for the Children’s room has been ordered. John O’Dell has been working with Library Staff and the installers to determine a scheduled start date. The project was best delayed until after the holidays due to the very busy schedule in the Children’s Room. We are very excited about the continuation of new carpeting on the first floor. Joel Wentworth has been very pleased with the response by staff whenever a spill or stain is noticed so his staff can clean the area immediately. We are all very happy with the ability of this carpet to be cleaned. This will help the Children’s Room immensely.

Our Preservation I have submitted the grant approval form to Andrew Loew, the City’s grant coordinator. This grant process is new and will need to be followed going forward. All grant opportunities must go through Mr. Loew. The City wishes to maintain better track of the grants being applied for to insure there are no auditing issues. Once we are approved for grant application, this will be put before City Council for vote on to “File and Accept” the application. We can then submit the application. I do not believe this will cause any issues for the Library since we regularly apply for and receive grants without incident. What this process means is preparing earlier for the application process to move through the City in time for our final application to go to the LSTA or other grant organization.

The carpet in the Children’s Room is still being planned. John O’Dell estimates this will start sometime the week ending the 16th. He will provide an update as soon as one if available. My concern is allowing time for the staff to make arrangements around programming should any be needed.

I have initiated a staff Safety Committee to look into ways we can better prepare for emergencies that may occur in the Library. These emergencies could be anything from fire drills to an actively violent patron. My hope is to find and provide training opportunities for staff in handling different situations. Our first goal will be to have a formal procedure for evacuation during a fire drill including staff communication and identified meet-up locations outside the building. Staff from each Department and Administration are on the committee to insure that all areas and circumstances are being considered.

Respectfully submitted,

Geoff Dickinson
Youth Services Report
December 2015

After meeting with the Youth Services Staff last month, we decided to focus on the following areas: improving communication, cleanliness and organization of library space, standardizing policies, regular staff meetings, and more off-desk time/better time management. We have been meeting every morning at the Main Library to discuss issues and daily programs, and I have also had a meeting with the full OCOL staff. I continue to visit the branches weekly, which gives me a snapshot of how everything is running. I also met with all the Principals at the branches this month.

In December, I worked on getting the OCOL Teacher Cards ready for their debut in January. A group also met to discuss our Playaway Launchpad collection, to be released in the beginning of February. I also facilitated Stuffed Animal Storytime once a week, with 63 people attending throughout the month! The Children's Department at the Main Library will be revamping its storytime schedule to include 5 storytimes a week, beginning in January. I am also working on reorganizing the Main Library's Children's room, buying new display furniture, and clearing out unused pieces of furniture to make the space more open and inviting.

-Sondra Murphy, Youth Services Coordinator

Main Library

The Gingerbread House Workshop was held on December 21 with 30 pre-registered participants. The creations were exciting and delicious, as usual.

This year, nationally known Robert Rivest was invited to perform his popular Mime Show for children and families. Unfortunately, there was an ice storm the day before and the turnout was lower than expected during school vacation week. Regardless, those attending were giggling from beginning to end. Robert celebrated stories with lots of audience participation.

Our faithful Tanglewood Marionettes greeted our 90+ participants in the first show and 50+ in their second show during their performance of their award-winning show "The Dragon King." The scenes and Asian music that accompanied the marionettes were spectacular. A surprise ending had the "Dragon" spraying water at the audience and kids running towards their parents in laughter.

The 1st Annual New Year's Eve for Little Ones was a grand success, thanks to an all-staff team effort. There were shiny decorations, storytelling, a new year's hat craft, a photo booth, a balloon toss, a sparkling juice toast, and dancing. This event left children and families (and staff) with an experience they'll never forget!
Roosevelt

The Roosevelt Branch Library got crafty this month with Crafternoons that included Tissue Paper Collage and Coffee Filter Art for a combined attendance of 20 patrons. Another “crafty” program that has become popular at Roosevelt Branch is our newest program, Coloring Club. Coloring Club met three times this month and patrons have told us that they are looking forward to participating each week. This month, Roosevelt Branch also created a toy and board book-filled play area on our Eric Carle themed rug which engaged younger patrons and encouraged patrons to make new friends!

Goddard

The Goddard Branch Library had a blast offering fun-filled events in the month of December. Goddard Branch Library had a Coloring Club open to all patrons throughout the month of December. We had over 10 participants for this program. Our Crafternoons were also a big hit for Goddard. This month, the children were able to create a tissue paper collage. Our weekly programs such as Lego Challenge and Game On! Family Game Night have patrons coming back week to week.

Tatnuck

Tatnuck families love board games! This month, our most popular program by far was our Wednesday Game On! Family Game Night, when we put out such board games as Monopoly, Checkers, Connect 4, and Trouble for kids to play together with their families. In February we look forward to introducing video-gaming using our Smart Board, which has been very popular at Roosevelt Branch. Other popular programs this month included Family Storytime, Crafternoon, and Lego Challenge. We look forward to adding more book clubs for beginning readers and early readers in February.

As the year comes to a close, the Reference Department can look back proudly at all it has accomplished. Since regrouping in June under the leadership of Pingsheng Chen and our four dedicated Public Services supervisors Cynthia Bermudez, Priya Subramanian, Mary Cocorochio and Veronica Howley, under the theme of “One Team and One Direction”, public services division has successfully united through streamlining communications and procedures, and training. During such a short period, the division has gotten many initiatives off the ground:

- forming the Customer Service, Readers Advisory workgroups and the Outreach Team
- conducting a series of in-depth of reference resources and services training including collection development, genealogy, grants, business and reference titles
- carrying out a thorough and ongoing weeding for all adult circulating materials
- starting long over-due projects such as evaluating circulating reference collections and basement materials including step by step procedures
- Gov Docs has once again found an overseer for the Gov Docs collection. Over the past four months the government documents librarian has learned to organize, catalog and retrieve government information. In addition, the library has made the decision to move the collection from a primarily paper format to an online format. This decision promises our patrons easier access to government information. The process is also an opportunity to “deselect” information no longer used by the Worcester community and to broaden the focus in areas like business, health and science.
- the rebranding of the Periodicals Area as the Quiet Zone, including the addition of public services like a scanner and a Lynda.com kiosk; and, comprehensive weeding of all print collections from Closed Stacks to the 3rd Floor. Reference has seamlessly re-absorbed the Periodicals Department, where a laptop lending service for business related-skyping and a Lynda.com kiosk for continued learning has been established. Our periodical and newspaper subscriptions were regularized to facilitate maintenance and tracking.
- 5 new librarians GL2s have joined us
- Programming and partnership achievements include establishing a weekly knitting clique, hosting a very well-attended Heritage Fair, and providing a four-part Small Business Basics series. Significant planning for 2016 programming were initiated, including preparation for a wellness series in January, another business series in February and a personal finance series in March/April. We also connected with a professor from QCC regarding a partnership with them for a community read project for Black History month in February. Our new outreach efforts continued with two community visits with staff from across the library, including reference, circulation and Talking Books. In addition, we submitted our intention to apply for a Preservation Study grant with MBLC in the coming year.

This is a long, varied (and incomplete) list, but the goals fueling all of our projects remain constant: providing superior service to patrons and fulfilling the needs of the Worcester community. As a team, we are motivated and excitedly looking forward to continuing that mission in 2016.

Introducing New Staff
This month, Henrique Coelho (11/30) and Jennifer Marien (12/7) joined the Reference Staff as GL2s. Henrique has worked at Framingham Public Library and has a passionate interest in ESL, citizenship resources and reaching out to the Brazilian community. Jennifer comes to us from Washington, D.C. where she did digitizing contract work for the Smithsonian Institution Archives. She also holds an undergraduate degree in Psychology. They are a wonderful addition to our staff and we look forward to working with them!

KARMS MONTHLY ACCOMPLISHMENTS
December 2015

Highlights: Special activities and projects:

- Circulating Telescopes: User agreements, circulation rules and appropriate storage were organized and the 3 telescopes have been made fully ready to circulate to Worcester adult patrons.
- Launchpads: Meetings were held during December to finalize and resolve the remaining issues associated with the Launchpad educational tablets for the Children’s Room. Patience worked with CWMARS to set up a new circulation category with accompanying new rules. Sondra worked on creating a signed agreement form for the units. Paula, Sulma and Sondra discussed the most effective area to store and display the new collection at the various locations and tested the rechargability of the devices. Linnea will look at including the launch in the Newsletter and Danielle provided critical input regarding security, shelving, and circulation of the Launchpads.
- Records clean-up: Patience continued to work with Jen Pike, Collections Manager, on the clean-up of records in the database by deleting out of date Talking Book materials, consolidating locations in the closed stacks, and making the spine labels more consistent to ensure improved findability.
- Relocation of reference materials and closed stack items in the basement: Patience and Tina handled over 320 items identified by Reference Staff as lacking access in the Online Public Catalog by either adding new MARC records in EverGreen or creating new item records.
- YA reclassification project: Patience, Jen Pike, and Rachel Moir met to discuss the possibility of reclassifying some of the DC and Marvel comics with multiple authors under the name of the character or series, such as Batman and Star Wars. Currently they are scattered throughout the collection due to the many different authors who have contributed over the years.
- Literature and Biography reclassification projects: Work continues on reclassifying the next batch of Cutter Sandborn spine labels to the more user-friendly method of using the author’s last name or the first word in the title. This project will make the collections easier to browse, and returned materials easier to shelve. Shakespeare titles will continue to be cuttered.
- Large Type reclassification project: Patience discussed with Cynthia Bermudez Adult Services’ plan to reclassify and consolidate the Large Print collection, hoping to eliminate the genre designations during the process.

December 2015 Community Services Report:

- "Libby" - Library Express was back on the road on December 3 after spending about four weeks in the shop while the brakes were repaired.
- A set of stairs on "Libby" was replaced.
- We were very happy to welcome Betty Jenewin as the newest Mobile Services Librarian!
- Planning has begun for the system-wide Summer Reading Program.
  - Thirteen Children’s programs and two Teen programs were held at the Frances Perkins Branch with a total of 194 participants.
  - Mr. Frank did a musical holiday story time for preschoolers from Head Start. They enjoyed his guitar playing and were given card applications to take home.
  - At "Crafty Kids" they made decorative snowflakes. It took a lot of patience to cut down papers to a square and then properly cut them. Daniel made his own pointy shape for his multicolored one and added complexity to his yellow piece. All the children completed theirs.
  - They had the 3rd annual Ginger Bread House workshop at Frances Perkins Branch. Each participant brought their own icing and used the candy provided to make their houses on carton bases. We had 58 people come through the door to participate. The participants ranged in age from infants to teenagers.
  - Roger Tinknell’s Holiday Concert was wonderful. He started out with Old McDonald at the insistence of Caleb. Then he went through a series of dances and holiday songs. All the children started dancing at the front. He was a hit.
  - Twenty-one children enjoyed the "Night Before Christmas" passive program at Great Brook Valley.

MINUTES AND REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ADMINISTRATION

DATE: November 30, 2015

PLACE: Worcester Public Library
       3 Salem Square
       Worcester MA 01608

DIRECTORS PRESENT: Finkel; Noah; Bejune
STAFF PRESENT: Dickinson; Stone

1. Call to order.
   Finkel called the meeting to order at 3:02 p.m.

   Noah presented information from other library sources about inclusion of the full Board in the performance review of the head librarian. The committee recommends expanding the Administration Committee for the purpose of the review only; gathering information regarding the Head Librarian performance from the full Board; collating the information and preparing the review; presenting the review to the full Board for the final review.
   The Committee recommends including the president and one other Board member selected by the President for the expanded committee

   The committee revised the current format of the Performance Review of the Head Librarian as indicated in the last minutes. The committee will draft a template of a new review format to bring to the board for approval in January.

   The committee recommends the initial Committee review in June at the end of the fiscal year with the full Board reviewing in September at the beginning of the new fiscal year.
   This would necessitate a change in the bylaws in regard to the month that the review will take place.

   There being no further business, Noah moved, seconded by Bejune to adjourn the meeting.
   The meeting adjourned at 4:37 p.m.
